

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the numerous archaeological and historical sites that have been discovered and recorded across the Palmetto State are a testament to our rich and diverse cultural development throughout prehistory and history; and

WHEREAS, archaeological sites are unique and irreplaceable remains that represent at least 14,000 years of occupancy in South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, the South Carolina Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology, Office of the State Archaeologist, the Archaeological Society of South Carolina, government agencies and other organizations, professional and avocational archaeologists, and private citizens have joined together to stimulate a sense of pride in protecting our state's archaeological sites; and

WHEREAS, protecting and preserving these sites and artifacts will help ensure that our residents can take advantage of the economic, educational, and scientific benefits and insights they provide for generations to come.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim October 2009 as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to work together to ensure the preservation of our rich and diverse cultural heritage.
