

CAS Faculty Field Trips to Washington DC

January 11th, 2007

Dear Colleagues,

By popular demand, our next CAS Faculty Field Trip to DC will be Thursday, January 11. At present we have room for four additional people on the airplane. If you are interested in making the trip for a meeting with a NSF program officer (s) (or NIH, NEA, etc) to discuss past, present or future grant proposals, please follow these steps:

- 1.) Contact your program officer ASAP and determine if they will be available for a meeting on January 11 between 10am - 2pm (for NSF) or 11am and 1pm for NIH (it takes an extra 45 minutes or so for the subway ride to and from MD). If he/she is available, agree on a tentative meeting time.
- 2.) Contact me immediately to confirm that you wish to make the trip.

We will meet at Columbia Owens airport at 6:30am and return by about 6pm. We will land at the Manassas Regional Airport in northern Virginia and I will provide chauffeured limousine service (ok, it's a minivan) to and from the NSF or Ballston Metro Station.
