

ESRI Product Release Form for Software Usage

The University of South Carolina site license with Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI) limits use of their products to University-related faculty, staff, and students on the Columbia campus. Use of all products obtained via this license must be directly related to University funded projects, research, and/or coursework and teaching.

The undersigned signifies that they agree to abide by all clauses and conditions expressed within the University Site License Agreement between the University of South Carolina and ESRI (contract #92S0941).

By checking this box I agree to use ESRI development software (ArcIMS, ArcGIS Server, ArcGIS Engine, etc.) for deployment to USC intranet clients only.

By checking this box and signing below I accept the following conditions for using ESRI software on a machine not physically located on the University’s Columbia campus.

- The software will be used only for University-related activities (as stated above).
- The software media (and any hardware dongles) will not be copied or modified in any way, nor distributed to anyone else.
- The software will be deleted from personal machines when I am no longer affiliated with the USC-Columbia campus.
- I accept the right of the Campus GIS coordinator to request that any software be removed from a machine that I control if any misuse is suspected.

The undersigned agrees to return the software to the Campus GIS Coordinator without making any copies or backups.
