

The portfolio is a reflection of your ongoing professional development throughout your training. You should begin creating your portfolio during your first semester of the program, updating it at the end of each semester. You should review your portfolio annually with your academic advisor during scheduled advising sessions. S/he will provide you with feedback regarding your documentation and progress. The portfolio will be used as one of the assessments of your overall professional development. It should be completed and approved by a committee of two school psychology faculty members prior to going on internship. The committee will consist of the academic advisor and another school psychology faculty member. The requirements are delineated in Appendix Y of the Student Handbook.
